Notice of Establishment of Taiwan Subsidiary

We are pleased to announce the establishment of our Taiwanese subsidiary company, which commenced operations on April 1, 2022.

Alinamin Pharmaceutical originated as a consumer healthcare division under the Takeda Pharmaceutical umbrella before starting its business in April 2021. We have already established a presence in Taiwan due to our operations in alliance with Takeda Pharmaceuticals Taiwan Ltd. (Takeda Taiwan), selling products such as Alinamin EX Plus (local name: 合利他命® 強效錠). However, to offer a more flexible response to healthcare needs in Asia and further expand and sell our products and services, we established this new subsidiary.

Chairman of Alinamin Pharmaceutical Taiwan Ltd., Ben Yang, stated "We are very pleased to start our business as a subsidiary of Alinamin Pharmaceutical. Alinamin is a highly recognized brand and has a loyal customer base in Taiwan. We aim to build our company based on the same principles as our Japanese parent company — providing customers with high-quality products and incomparable service."

In response to the trust that we have developed with our customers in Taiwan, we will grow and expand in the region as a locally based company. At the same time, we will utilize our increased presence in Taiwan as a foothold to expand our business in the Asian market and contribute to people's health by delivering high-quality products and services and trustworthy information.
